Hexachordia

Thursday
November 28th
7.30pm

The early music trio Hexachordia (www.hexachordia.com) presents a programme of mirth and merriment for the festive season called "Heigh-ho, the Holly" revealing what Christmas and New Year was like for folk at all levels of society in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Featuring Hexachordia's trademark blend of instrumental music, song and narrative, they will bring to life the winter season of times gone by. Many of today's seasonal carols have their origins in the Medieval and Tudor eras, and so even if the instruments Hexachordia play them on may be unfamiliar, some of the tunes will be known to many.

Tickets £10 (includes a mulled wine and mince pie)
